

Pennsylvania at Risk 2019 Nomination

Nomination Deadline: November 5, 2018

preservation
PENNSYLVANIA

Throughout the year, Preservation Pennsylvania works with individuals, organizations and communities to plan and protect their prized local landmarks.

Pennsylvania At Risk* allows us the opportunity to make a very focused effort and raise awareness about threatened properties that are a representative sampling of the Commonwealth's most endangered historic resources.

For the list, endangerment is defined as threat of Inappropriate Alteration, Compromised Setting, Physical Deterioration, or Demolition. It is our belief that the Pennsylvania At Risk list draws statewide attention to the plight of Pennsylvania's historic resources, promotes local action to protect them and encourages additional state funding for historic properties. Preservation Pennsylvania will waive field service fees for At Risk properties for the year and provide additional services and support.

Nomination Deadline: November 5, 2018

Eligibility Requirements:

- the property is architecturally and/or historically significant as defined by local, state or National Register criteria. This includes properties that are (or could be) locally designated or determined eligible for or listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

Nominations will be evaluated according to the following criteria:
